A Trio of Great Men.

President Roosevelt, Cardinal Gibbons, Mr. John Mitchell—these three men, each in his own sphere, exercise more influence in our national life today than probably any other that could be named. President Roosevelt is admired by the world-at-large hardly less than is Mr. John Mitchell in the world of labor, while Cardinal Gibbons, America's most eminent prelate, has well won the admiration of the religious world. This world-famous trio is shown in a most interesting series of moving pictures secured on the occasion of their visit and addresses to 200,000 miners and citizens at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on August 10th. It is interesting because the ensemble, the crowds, the national prominence of the speakers, make the whole series so typical of American life today. The river common of Wilkes-Barre affords a charming and fitting background to the memorable event, and the favorable weather conditions enabled Mr. Howe to secure results in photography that are incomparable. This series as well as many others in Mr. Howe's new and elaborate Life-orama will be seen in Barre's Opera House on Thursday, Sept. 14th, and constitute a programme most of which can be seen at this exhibition exclusively.

"THE PRINCESS CHIC"

To Be Presented at Barre Opera House Next Tuesday Evening.

The sale of seats begins today for the engagement of Kirke La Shelle's dashing and romantic opera comique, "The Princess Chic," under the direction of Edward R. Salter, which will open at the opera house next Tuesday evening. The piece is said to be notable not only for the quantity, but the quality of its music, as well as the dash and swing of its lyric lines and the genuinely romantic atmosphere of its libretto. The opera is really consistent and has much drawing power. The chief characters in the romance are the "Princess Chic" of Normandy, and "Charles the Bold," Duke of Burgundy. Other characters in the opera are Louis XI of France; the Chamberlains of the Duke and Princess; Lorraine, the page to the "Princess"; and a couple of "ragamuffin scallawags" who profess to be soldiers of fortune. The large chorus is used to represent hunters, men, retainers, men-at-arms, peasants, cavaliers and courtiers. The time of the opera is 1468, and the place the Chateau of Charles the Bold, in Burgundy. The presentation of the Kirke La Shelle Opera Company in "The Princess Chic" in this city on Tuesday evening, is justly regarded as the chief musical event of the season. Mr. Edward R. Salter's company, which appears in this piece, is headed by Miss Elaine Von Thiele and the supporting company includes, among others, Mr. Frank M. Kelly, whose wonderful baritone voice has won high commendation wherever he has sung.
